EMPATHY

Reference:

4 Factors: Perspective-Taking, Personal Distress, Fantasy, Empathetic Concern

Scoring: 5-point scale anchored by 0 (does not describe me well) and 4 (describes me very well).

Perspective-taking
Before criticizing somebody, I try to imagine how I would feel if I were in their place.
If I'm sure I'm right about something, I don't waste much time listening to other people's arguments.
I sometimes try to understand my friends better by imagining how things look from their perspective.
I believe that there are two sides to every question and try to look at them both.
I sometimes find it difficult to see things from the "other guy's" point of view.
I try to look at everybody's side of a disagreement before I make a decision.
When I'm upset at someone, I usually try to "put myself in his shoes" for a while.

Personal Distress
When I see someone who badly needs help in an emergency, I go to pieces.
I sometimes feel helpless when I am in the middle of a very emotional situation.
In emergency situations, I feel apprehensive and ill-at-ease.
I am usually pretty effective in dealing with emergencies.

Fantasy
When I am reading an interesting story or novel, I imagine how I would feel if the events in the story were happening to me.
I really get involved with the feelings of the characters in a novel.
I am usually objective when I watch a movie or play, and I don't often get completely caught up in it.
After seeing a play or movie, I have felt as though I were one of the characters.
I daydream and fantasize, with some regularity, about things that might happen to me.
Becoming extremely involved in a good book or movie is somewhat rare for me.
When I watch a good movie, I can very easily put myself in the place of a leading character.

Empathic Concern
When I see someone being taken advantage of, I feel kind of protective toward them.
When I see someone being treated unfairly, I sometimes don't feel very much pity for them.
I often have tender, concerned feelings for people less fortunate than me.
I would describe myself as a pretty soft-hearted person.
Sometimes I don't feel sorry for other people when they are having problems.
Other people's misfortunes do not usually disturb me a great deal.
I am often quite touched by things that I see happen.
